RE: Formula changes on select solvent products

To whom it may concern:

Select Techspray solvent cleaning products have been revised to have a lower global warming potential, alleviate supply chain issues and ensure reliable supply. These changes go into effect this month. All products have been stringently tested to guarantee they meet the same exceptional performance and regulatory criteria.

You can identify the correct SDS by the reference number, which is included in the document name and in section 1. The lot # printed on the bottom of the aerosol can will either match or be higher. Labels will also be marked "New & Improved" for easy identification.

Marked 22346 or higher: part #
