

Price Change Notification

Discretes Do Matter™

August 18, 2021

Dear Craig,

Central Semiconductor is committed to supporting customers' long-term product requirements by extending product life cycles beyond the industry standard availability and doing all possible to hold or reduce manufacturing costs. Occasionally, due to circumstances beyond our control, price adjustments become necessary.

The semiconductor industry continues to experience significantly longer than average lead-times as well as increased manufacturing costs. As such, please be advised that a price adjustment is required for part number CMLD3003DOG TR which is currently on our distribution price file. Please be advised of the following:

- Central will accept current orders acknowledged at the current price book pricing.
- Previous quotes will not be supported.
- All subsequent new orders yet to be confirmed by Central will require a price increase. Please use the pricing listed below, effective August 18, 2021.

Column 1
1-9,000 US$0.1316

Column 2
9,001-12,000 US$0.1277

Please contact your Regional Sales Manager or Customer Relationship Manager to coordinate your needs.

Thank you for your continued trust in and support of Central and our products and services.

Yours sincerely
