

Product Termination Notice

Oct, 01, 2014

ATTN: Whom It May Concern

Dear Valued Customer,

Striving continuously for business excellence and better operation efficiency, we recently found the mold and/or tooling used in manufacturing L, LE, CK and CR series that we made for you have reached its age limit. The condition of the mold and/or tooling will soon deteriorate below Delta's quality standard, and it is not cost effective for further maintenance and service.

In our investigation, we also realized that we have not received any purchase orders from you for these parts since January 1, 2013. It appears these parts are no longer needed for your production. We therefore have decided to cease use of the mold and/or tooling, and terminate the production of these parts.

In the attempt to minimize any possible impact to your business, we would agree to take last-buy order of these parts with minimum quantity as specified, should you have any needs of them. The last-buy purchase order will be honored if placed within 30 days from the date this notice is issued. Delivery of the last-buy order is acceptable if scheduled within 6 months from the date of this notice.

From the shipping records since 2012, we believe the termination of these parts will not cause any impact to your business. However, if you need to place the last-buy order, we urge you to take action soon. Thank you for your understanding and support.

Sincerely yours,

Julia Chen 10/1/2014
