Subject: Price List Update

SV Microwave has replaced several of our VITA SMPM 67.3 connectors on our Price List. The current part numbers listed below are still orderable and do still work, but we are replacing them for a better design. Please update your websites so that people will order the new versions.

Also, please consider ordering the replacement parts so that they are readily available. They are all included in the new Price List. More information on the replacements can be found here:
