Dear Valued Customer

3M has decided to exit the 3M Touch Systems business and plans to discontinue all Surface Capacitive, Projected Capacitive and display products currently in production. We expect last shipments to be completed by the end of March 2021.

This decision was made to allow the Display Materials and Systems Division to focus on more significant growth areas that are better aligned to 3M's fundamental strengths. 3M anticipates a smooth product discontinuation process and is committed to a high level of customer service throughout the product discontinuation process.

Please place all non-cancellable and non-returnable, last time buy orders by October 31, 2020 for shipment not later than March 31, 2021.

Please use the links below to reference the Customer Information Document and the Customer Order Acknowledgement Form for other important information related to this announcement and the last time buy process.

Please contact your 3M representative with any questions. Thank you for your business.

Regards,

E. Scott Hagermoser
